

DRAGONS UNDER MY BED

©Kath Bee 2007

Something happens in my room at night
Straight after Mum turns out the light
I hear the giggling from under my bed
And then I see the glowing eyes of red
As if that isn't enough surprise
Little puffs of smoke they start to rise
I hear the breathing deep and strong
And that's when I know there's something wrong

CHORUS

I've got dragons under my bed
Not just one a whole family instead!
They don't hurt me that's for sure
But they do make a mess on the bedroom floor

They throw my clothes all around the room
It's just like a bomb going BOOM, BOOM, BOOM
They even open up the wardrobe door
And throw the contents on the floor
I pull the blankets up over my head
'Cause this is the part that I really dread
Starting with the books and then the toys
They make lots of mess and lots of noise

CHORUS

That's when I hear Mum coming at last!
But man those dragons are super fast
As soon as they hear the door go 'click'

Back under the bed they scurry quick
Well the light goes on and I bet you'll guess
Who gets the blame for all that mess?
I try to tell her it's not me
But she never does believe my dragon story.

CHORUS
